Travel into the heart of New Hampshire to Moultonborough. Discover a country estate nestled in the Ossipee Mountains-the over 100 year-old: Castle in the Clouds". Built by shoe industry titan Tom Plant and his wife Olive, the property boasts incredible views, intricate architectural features and cutting edge amenities from the time period including central vacuum and intercom system. Stroll through the gardens, enjoy the mansion, take a walk along one of the over 28 miles of hiking trails or feed some ducks at the pond. You'll delight in spending the afternoon exploring this impressive property that has been expertly restored to reflect life in the early 1900's.
